

Geocaching in Greenwich

22 September 2011
3.00pm-5pm
Greenwich Park, London

•
followed by
The History of London in Maps Exhibition
6pm Trafalgar Tavern

ICES Network, ICES South East and University of East London's Survey Society are holding a geocaching event this autumn. Teams will navigate their way around Greenwich's landmarks with handheld GPS devices whilst solving puzzles and performing team tasks. Following on from the geocaching, there will be a meeting at the historic Trafalgar Tavern on the bank of the River Thames, for drinks, presentations and a prizegiving ceremony. The evening event will feature the History of London in Maps Exhibition that forms part of the London Mapping Festival. As an LMF event, attendees will be asked to make a small donation on the night in support of the LMF official charity MapAction.

OPEN TO ALL!

Prior registration for the geocaching is essential. No registrations will be taken on the day as the teams will be organised beforehand.

Numbers are limited so please contact mike.saltmarsh at mike.saltmarsh@regions.cices.org if you'd like to attend i) geocaching ii) evening event or iii) both. Priority for the evening event will go to those attending the geocaching.

The Chartered Institution of CIVIL ENGINEERING SURVEYORS

Event sponsors

Event supporters

