

Quick Guide to...

Affiliate

Please read in conjunction with the ICES Guide to Membership

An Affiliate has an interest and involvement with the construction industry and may or may not wish to move up to one of the qualification grades of membership. This grade may be used as a holding grade for those applicants working towards the Technical Member or Member grades. Affiliates may also be studying for qualifications that are relevant to ICES membership, but not accredited by the institution.

Eligibility

All those who have an interest and involvement in the construction industry.

Benefits of Membership

Key benefits include:

-  The opportunity to apply to upgrade to the qualification grades of membership (subject to eligibility).
-  Ten copies per year of the ICES journal, Civil Engineering Surveyor.
-  The monthly ICES e-newsletter.
-  Access to the ICES regional events programme.
-  The opportunity to become an active member of the ICES Network for early career members and participate in its activities.

How to Apply

The Affiliate application must include:

-  Application form.
-  A passport sized photograph.
-  There is no application fee.

Please return all requested documentation to the membership department at ICES head office.

Applicants are strongly encouraged to submit applications electronically via www.cices.org/forms.html
