

Quick Guide to...

Student Member

Please read in conjunction with the ICES Guide to Membership

ICES welcomes applications from students on its accredited courses.

Eligibility

A Student Member will be:

-  Enrolled on a course which has been accredited by ICES.
-  A full-time or part-time student but not a distance or blended learning student.

Benefits of Membership

Key benefits include:

-  Free membership for the duration of the course.
-  Eligibility to enter the ICES student prize and award schemes.
-  Students on sandwich courses will be eligible to count their placement year towards the ICES experience requirements, providing that their placement year is undertaken within an approved company (i.e. one with an ICES approved development scheme).
-  Ten copies per year of the ICES journal, Civil Engineering Surveyor.
-  The monthly ICES e-newsletter.
-  Access to the ICES regional events programme.
-  The opportunity to become an active member of the ICES Network for early career members and participate in its activities.
-  Degree holders are automatically offered an upgrade to Graduate Member.

How to Apply

The Student Member application must include:

-  Student application form signed by the course tutor.
-  A passport sized photograph.
-  There is no application fee.

Please return all requested documentation to the membership department at ICES head office.

Applicants are strongly encouraged to submit applications electronically via www.cices.org/forms.html
